Dear Neighbor,

Imagine a mainstay, free to the public, summer jazz concert series on Capitol Hill...

The community came together last year, led by the Monktail Creative Music Concern, to produce Sounds Outside 2007, a creative music and community festival, free and open to the public in Capitol Hill's Cal Anderson Park. Hundreds of people attended each day of the festival. Families brought blankets and picnic baskets to enjoy the performances. Artists painted portraits of the musicians on stage and local and national acts such as Wayne Horvitz, Skerik, Paul Rucker, Reptet and the Degenerate Art Ensemble performed high quality jazz and creative music. It was a resounding success - thank you for your support!

The Monktail Creative Music Concern is proud to lead a growing coalition of community sponsors and volunteers to bring you Sounds Outside 2008. The City of Seattle recently renovated Cal Anderson Park and we want to ensure the park is a place of positive use, where we continue to build Seattle's community. This year's festival will take place on July 19 and August 23.

Seattle leads the nation in creative and jazz music development. Concert series such as Sounds Outside keep our vibrant music scene on the cutting edge, while celebrating our creative community at large.

In short, there's sun, music, art and fun to be had in the park this summer...join us!

A volunteer from the Monktail Creative Music Concern will be contacting you shortly about event sponsorship.

We look forward to speaking with you.

Sincerely,

John Seman
Advancement Associate

P.S. The success of this event depends entirely on community support. If you support bringing creative music to the community, please make a contribution today.
